

Short Term Training on “Seasoning & Preservation of Wood & Bamboo” {21st to 25th October, 2024}

A five days short term training programme from 21st to 25th October 2024 for wood based Industries from various parts of India related to the “Seasoning & Preservation of Wood & Bamboo” started at Forest Research Institute (FRI), Dehradun on 21st October, 2024. In this training 29 representatives from different wood based Industries are participating. The training programme is being jointly organized by the Wood Seasoning & Wood Preservation Discipline of Forest Products Division, FRI, Dehradun.

The event was inaugurated by Dr. Renu Singh, IFS, Director FRI. In her inaugural address, she emphasized on the need of Seasoning & Preservation of Wood & Bamboo for improvement in quality and enhancing the durability. Shri Gopi Krishna one of the participants & President of The Greater City Timber Merchants & Saw Millers Association, Hyderabad introduced himself and described about his association and expectation from the training. On this occasion, Shri D. P. Khali, Head Forest Products Division, Dr. N. K. Upreti, Group Coordinator Research (GCR), Shri Ajmal Samani, Programme Coordinator, Scientists and staff of Forest Products Division were present.

The training programme will be concluded on 25th October, 2024.

PHOTOGRAPHS

